

FLASHBACK BLOG

This week in history: Delray Medical Center opens

On Oct. 4, 1982, Delray Community Hospital (renamed Delray Medical Center in 1996) admitted its first patients. The hospital opened with 160 beds and has since expanded to become a 493-bed acute care hospital on a 42-acre medical center campus.

Delray Community Hospital was under construction when this photo was taken in July 1982. (Palm Beach Post file photo)

